

RADU MAGDIN

Radu Magdin is a global analyst, consultant and trainer. He has advised Prime Ministers in Romania and Moldova on a range of strategic issues, having previously spent five years in Brussels with the European Parliament, EurActiv and Google. Since 2012, Radu is the CEO of Smartlink Communications. In 2015, Radu also became an EU Affairs Vice President of Strategikon, English-speaking Bucharest-based think tank. Starting from 2017, he also runs Global Risk Advisory, a London-based risk consultancy. After teaching Political Leadership at the University of Bucharest and delivering several training programs in Romania and abroad, Radu is currently pursuing a PhD at Romania's National School of Political and Administrative Studies, with a thesis on Russian Propaganda and Hybrid Warfare.